William Wordsworth - Intimations of Immortality from Recollections of Early Childhood, Tintern Abbey ND

Summary and Context -

Ode on Intimations of Immortality from Early Childhood -

Wordsworth concluded that he gives thanks for what, was able to gain even though he lost his vision of the joy in the world, but in the later works he tones down his emphasis on the gain and provides only a muted thanks for what remains of his ability to see the glory in the world.

This ode reflects wordsworth's belief that human beings possess a divine, immortal soul before birth. As childrens we are closer to this divine source and perceive nature with spiritual glory and wonder.

As we grow older, this vision fades due to wordly responsibilities, but memory, imagination, and philosophical reflection help us recover a deeper understanding of this (life).

The poem moves from loss → sorrow → consolation → Mature wisdom

Lines Composed a few miles above Tintern Abbey -

This poem records Wordsworth's return to river Wye after 5 years. It explores how his relationship with nature has evolved from physical excitement to spiritual contemplation. Nature becomes a moral teacher, a source of peace, and a guide to human goodness.

The poem also addresses his sister dorothy, symbolizing continuity and hope.
